

CL LAMPHEAD

Creative Light introduces CL Lamphead

CL Creative Light, an international photographic lighting accessory company offering products created by photographers for photographers is proud to present the CL Lamphead.

The CL Lamphead is a steady continuous light source making it easy to create advanced light set-ups. It can be used for both photo and video shoots with great convenience and creative control. Its small size and low weight makes it ideal for photo- and videographers working on location. It is optimal to use while shooting videos with live sound since there is no need of a cooling fan.

Photographers owning DSLR cameras with HD video function will achieve a flexible and uncomplicated light source adequate for most situations and not too intense in order to restrain shoots where a shallow depth of field is needed.

The integrated standard E27 socket is applicable with current incandescent, halogen, LED and household lamps up to 250W. The integrated swivel head attached to the stand adapter with universal 5/8" (16 mm) stud makes the CL Lamphead mountable on any standard CL lightstand.

The speedring integrated to the CL Lamphead accepts all CL softboxes from size 40x40cm up to 120x180cm.

Creative Light offers a 65W and 105W fluorescent lamps plus a 250W halogen lamp to be used together with the CL Lamphead. The fluorescent lamps offer a light output similar to 250W respectively 500W halogen lamps.

The CL Lamphead is designed in Sweden to meet international safety regulations. With its metal housing, quality craftsmanship plus easy and safe handling the CL Lamphead fulfills the demand of critical users.

The CL Lamphead is available as a separate unit or in convenient and affordable kits from July 2010.
